

CALL FOR PAPERS

2022 ARCE Annual Meeting

Time: April 22-24

Irvine, California

ARCE ANNUAL MEETING CALL FOR PAPERS: 10/20/21-1/7/22

ARCE is pleased to announce that the Call for Papers is now open for our 2022 Annual Meeting. The 2022 Annual Meeting will take place in person at the Irvine Marriott Hotel from April 22-24, 2022, from approximately 08:30 AM US PT to 5:00 PM US PT Friday and Saturday, and 08:30 AM US PT to 13:15 US PT on Sunday.

A hybrid virtual experience will also be provided for those presenters or participants who cannot attend in person. On the submission platform, presenters will be able to choose between presenting in person or virtually. Those interested in presenting virtually must send their recorded presentations a month in advance of the conference dates. Proof of vaccination is required for presenting and attending all of the in-person sessions.

ARCE will of course be following local COVID-related guidelines in place at the time and adding requirements for vaccination cards or negative COVID-tests, masking inside, distancing, etc. in order to do our best to help keep everyone safe. We promise to stay engaged and actively utilize the safest protocols available at the time of our Annual Meeting, and so will our vendors.

ARCE members who wish to present at the 2022 Annual Meeting should submit abstracts to the review committee on the All Academic platform (<https://convention2.allacademic.com/one/arce/arce22/>) no later than January 7, 2022. Speakers will have the option of choosing to speak in person at the conference venue or to provide a recorded presentation a month in advance.

Submissions for Posters, Best Student Paper and Best Student Poster Competitions will only be accepted for the in-person presentations. Please carefully review the submission guidelines and judging process, located at <https://www.arce.org/best-student-paper-and-poster-competition>.

Abstracts should provide a brief overview of the topic, clearly state the research goals and note the impact of the work in the relevant area of study. (Results should be relayed during the presentation itself - as appropriate - not necessarily in the abstract.) In order to preserve the blind review component, text of abstracts should not include personally identifiable information. A double-blind vetting process will be employed. Neither reviewers nor submitters will be informed of one another's identities.

The review committee is comprised of scholars in both ancient and modern Egyptian studies who will review submissions in the following categories:

- Ancient Egypt and Nubia
 - Archaeology: includes archaeological sciences, bioarchaeology and field reports
 - Language and literature: includes philology and text studies
 - Art and artifacts: includes art, art history, museum collections and objects
 - History
 - Religion
- Conservation and Site Management: includes project reports, techniques, and training
- Historic and Modern Studies
- Coptic Studies
- Medieval to Ottoman Egypt
- Modern Egyptian Culture and Society
- History of Egyptology
- Technological Advents/Advances

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- All submitters must be members of ARCE in good standing. Membership status can be confirmed by contacting ARCE at info@arce.org.
- Abstracts must not exceed 250 words.
- Submitters will be notified via email regarding the acceptance, waitlist, or rejection of their abstract by mid-February 2022.
- All presenters must provide their own funding to attend the Annual Meeting. Please check ARCE's website for information on ARCE's new Annual Meeting grant for Underrepresented Students <https://www.arce.org/fellowship/arce-annual-meeting-grant-underrepresented-students>
- All presenters must register for the Annual Meeting by February 20, 2022. Failure to register by February 20 will result in removal of their paper/poster from the program.
- Presenters and co-presenters must be defined during initial submission in All Academic and may not be added after the abstract due date.
- No individual may submit more than one paper.
- Students wishing to be considered for Best Student Paper/ Poster competition should submit their proposal through the All Academic platform (<https://convention2.allacademic.com/one/arce/arce22/>), as well as send the additional annotated outline by (January 7, 2022) by sending directly to BSP@arce.org. Students wishing to be considered for the competition should carefully review the updated guidelines and templates located at <https://www.arce.org/best-student-paper-and-poster-competition>.
- An advisor sign-off letter is required only for undergraduate students interested in submitting a proposal for the general paper or poster presentations.
- All submissions must be in English.
- All student paper and poster presentations will be vetted along with all other member submissions. Only after peer review is completed will accepted student presentations be considered for inclusion in the paper and poster contests.

PRESENTATION GUIDELINES

- Submission of an abstract is a commitment by the submitter(s) to present the paper virtually or in person.
- Papers may not be presented by anyone other than the named author(s).
- Presentations will run about 20 minutes, with an additional five minutes for questions.

When submitting an abstract, please be aware that the program for presentations for ARCE's 2022 Annual Meeting is planned for April 22- 24 and if your paper is accepted for the program it may be scheduled at any time during this date.

Changes to the schedule are possible depending on the final number of accepted submissions.

If your poster is selected, it must remain on display from Friday, April 22, at 8:00 a.m. until Sunday, April 24, at 1:00 p.m.

Requests for presenting on a specific day will only be accommodated for religious reasons and should be included in your submission.

As of January 7th, 2022, neither abstracts nor titles will be adjustable. However, submitters will retain access to edit contact information via the All Academic website.